

Contributor License Agreement (Corporate Version)

<http://www.xxxxxx>

Thank you for your interest in the PHP Group and its PHP Data Objects (PDO) Work. Before making a Contribution to the Work, each individual or entity must sign a Contributor License Agreement (“CLA”). The CLA is for Your protection as well as for the protection of the users of Your Contribution and the Work; it does not change Your rights to use all or part of Your Contribution for any other purpose.

This version of the CLA allows an entity (“Corporation”) to submit a Contribution, to authorize all or part of the Contribution to be submitted by its designated employees, and to grant copyright and patent licenses thereto.

If you have not already done so, please have an authorized representative of your Corporation complete and send an original signed CLA to _____, _____, _____, __ xxxxx-xxx, U.S.A. If necessary, you may send it by facsimile to _____ at xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx.

Please read this CLA carefully before signing and keep a copy for your records.

You accept and agree to the following terms and conditions for Your Contribution(s) to the PHP Group hereunder. Except for the licenses granted herein, You reserve all right, title, and interest in and to Your Contribution.

1. Definitions.

“Approved License” means the license agreement under which the PHP Group licenses the Work as set forth in Schedule A, or any subsequent version or modification under which the PHP Group licenses the Work. Any subsequent version or modification of the Approved License must contain terms no less protective of each PDO Participant’s rights and interests than those contained in the Approved License in Schedule A and not contain any provisions that would otherwise make it an “excluded license.” An “excluded license” means any license terms that would require, as a condition of use, modification, or distribution of the software licensed under such terms, that any other software distributed or used in connection with such software (a) be disclosed or distributed in source code form, (b) be licensed for the purpose of making derivative works or otherwise on terms that permit its modification, or (c) be distributed without charge.

“Contribution” means the code, documentation, or other original works of authorship which may be expressly identified in Schedule B, as well as any original work of authorship, including any modifications or additions to an existing work, that is submitted by You and may be included in, or be part of documentation of, the Work. For the purposes of this definition, “submitted” means any form of electronic, oral, or written communication sent to the PHP Group, including, but not limited, to communication on electronic mailing lists, source code control systems, and issue tracking systems that are managed by, or on behalf of, the PHP Group for the purpose of discussing and improving the Work.

“PDO Participant” means You or any individual or legal entity that contributes to the Work by signing a CLA and then submitting a Contribution to the PHP Group.

“PHP Group” means the group of individuals that has volunteered to serve the role of accepting CLAs and any corresponding Contribution. The PHP Group can be contacted at group@php.net.

“Work” means the PHP Data Objects (“PDO”) software, including its associated test suite and test cases, whether in source code or binary format, and any associated user and developer documentation (e.g., specifications) made available by the PHP Group under an Approved License. The PDO software comprises a PHP extension for accessing relational and XML databases. For clarification and consistency with the scope of the PHP Data Objects project, as defined on the PHP website at [\[website TBD\]](#), the Work does not include any communication protocols used to transfer data between any client and a database server.

“You” (or “Your”) means the legal entity identified on the cover sheet of this CLA and all other entities that control, are controlled by, or are under common control with such entity, all of which are considered to be a “PDO Participant.” For the purposes of this definition, “control” means (i) the power, direct or indirect, to cause the direction or management of the entity, whether by contract or otherwise, (ii) ownership of more than fifty percent (50%) of the outstanding shares of the entity, or (iii) beneficial ownership of the entity.

2. Subject to the terms and conditions of this CLA, You hereby grant to (a) each PDO Participant, (b) the PHP Group, and (c) any individual or legal entity that accepts the Work from the PHP Group under an Approved License, a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable copyright license to reproduce, create derivative works of, publicly display, publicly perform, sublicense, and distribute Your Contribution and any derivative works thereof.

3. Subject to the terms and conditions of this CLA, You hereby grant to (a) each PDO Participant, (b) the PHP Group, and (c) any individual or legal entity that accepts the Work from the PHP Group under an Approved License, a perpetual, worldwide, non-exclusive, no-charge, royalty-free, irrevocable (except as stated in this section) patent license to make, have made, use, offer to sell, sell, import, and otherwise transfer Your Contribution, provided that such license extends only to those patent claims licensable by You, without payment to any third party, that are necessarily infringed by all or part of Your Contribution, alone or in combination with the Work. If any individual or legal entity institutes patent litigation against You (including a cross-claim or counterclaim in a lawsuit) alleging that the use or distribution of Your Contribution or the Work, in whole or in part, constitutes direct or contributory patent infringement, then any patent licenses granted to that individual or legal entity under this CLA will terminate as of the date such litigation is filed.

4. You represent and warrant to each PDO Participant and the PHP Group that (i) Your Contribution is completely non-confidential, (ii) all of Your Contribution is Your original work of authorship, (iii) each employee designated on Schedule C (or in a subsequent written modification to that Schedule) is authorized to submit any or all of Your Contribution on Your behalf, and (iv) You have the authority to grant the above license.

5. You are not expected to provide support for Your Contribution, except to the extent You desire to provide support. You may offer support for free, for a fee, or not at all. Except as provided in this CLA or required by applicable law, You provide Your Contribution on an “AS IS” BASIS, WITHOUT WARRANTIES OR CONDITIONS OF ANY KIND, either express or implied, including, without limitation, any warranties or conditions of TITLE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, MERCHANTABILITY, or FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE.

6. It is your responsibility to notify the PHP Group when any change is required to (i) the list of designated employees designated on Scheduled C who are authorized to submit Your Contribution on Your behalf or (ii) to Your Point of Contact with the PHP Group.
